1 This matter came before the undersigned Honorable James Ware of the above-entitled Court
2 upon plaintiff's motion for class certification. The Court having considered the motion and all other
3 papers filed concerning that motion, and all other pertinent documents and pleadings filed in this 4 action,

5 NOW, therefore, it is hereby ORDERED and ADJUDGED:

6 1. Plaintiff's motion for class certification is hereby granted.

7 2. The following class is hereby certified pursuant to Rule 23(b)(2) and (3) of the 8 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure:

9 All persons and entities in the United States (excluding federal, state and local 10 governmental entities, Apple, its directors, officers and members of their families)
11 that from December 31, 2003 to the present ("Class Period") purchased an Apple iPod indirectly from Apple for their own use and not for resale.

12 3. The Court also certifies plaintiff Stacie Somers as the Class Representative. Pursuant 13 to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(g), the Court appoints the following law firms as Co-Lead Class Counsel:
Zeldes & Haeggquist, LLP and Mehri & Skalet, PLLC.

14 4. This Court bases this certification and appointment order on the following findings,
15 all of which are amply supported by plaintiff's well-pleaded allegations, Defendant's own
16 documents, and expert testimony:

17 (a) Numerosity. Plaintiff has demonstrated that "the class is so numerous that 18 joinder of all members is impracticable" within the meaning of Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1).

19 (b) Commonality. Fed. R. Civ. P 23(a)(2) requires that there be "questions of 20 law or fact common to the class." Plaintiff has satisfied the commonality requirement here by 21 identifying, inter alia, the following common questions of law and fact:

22 (i) the definition of the relevant markets;
23 (ii) Apple's market power within these markets;
24 (iii) whether Apple monopolized and continues to monopolize the relevant
25 markets in violation of Section 2 of the Sherman Act;

26 (iv) whether Apple attempted to monopolize and continues to attempt to 27 monopolize the relevant markets in violation of Section 2 of the Sherman Act;
28

1 (v) whether Apple’s technological tie-violates Section 1 of the Sherman
2 Act and California’s Cartwright Act;

3 (vi) whether Defendant’s conduct caused prices of iPods to be set at 4 supracompetitive levels;

5 (vii) whether Defendant’s conduct injured plaintiff and other members of 6 the class and, if so, the appropriate class-wide measure of damages; and

7 (viii) the appropriateness of injunctive relief to restrain ongoing and future
8 violations of the law.

9 (c) Typicality. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(3), plaintiff must also show that 10 “the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the 11 class.” The same common questions identified above also serve to satisfy plaintiff’s burden on 12 typicality. The Court accordingly finds that typicality is met here because plaintiff and Class
13 Members seek the same remedies for similar harms under the same legal theories.

14 (d) Adequacy. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(4), the Court finds that the 15 “representative parties will fairly and adequately represent the [C]lass.” The interests of the plaintiff
16 are fully aligned with those of the Class, and her chosen counsel are fully capable of effectively
17 prosecuting this litigation.

18 5. The Court further finds that certification is proper under Rule 23(b)(3). The common 19 questions identified above predominate over any individualized issues concerning the allocation of 20 damages. In other words, “[a] common nucleus of facts and potential legal remedies dominates this 21 litigation.” Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1022 (9th Cir. 1998). Further, a class action is 22 superior to a series of potentially millions of individual suits. Even if it were feasible for individual
23 Class Members to bring suit, it would be inefficient to re-litigate the numerous common questions in 24 case after case. Moreover, the Court is unaware of any other litigation concerning the controversy at 25 issue herein, and the Court foresees no manageability problems that would militate against class
26 certification.

1 ORDER

2 Good Cause Appearing Therefore: Plaintiff's motion for class certification is granted, the 3 class as defined above is certified, plaintiff Stacie Somers is certified as the Class Representative and
4 the law firms of Zeldes & Haeggquist, LLP and Mehri & Skalet, PLLC are appointed Co-Lead Class
5 Counsel.

6 IT IS SO ORDERED.
